USA tests ‘Doomsday Missile’ deadlier than WW2

As tensions continue to rise in the Middle East, the United States conducted a test of its nuclear-capable LGM-30G Minuteman III, one of the most powerful weapons in the American strategic arsenal. The launch came as the regional conflict entered its sixth day, underscoring Washington’s focus on maintaining nuclear readiness amid growing geopolitical uncertainty. The unarmed intercontinental ballistic missile was launched on Tuesday night from Vandenberg Space Force Base in California. According to the United States Space Force, the missile carried two test re-entry vehicles designed to help evaluate the performance and reliability of the system. Officials said the launch was a part of a routine test to access to operational missile launched from the space air force base. It is said to be deadlier than the Hiroshima and

Canada will not enter the war against Iran

Defence Minister David McGuinty said Monday that Canada “will not be participating” in the war in Iran after Prime Minister Mark Carney last week did not rule out the possibility of Canadian military involvement. Speaking at an unrelated media event in Ottawa, McGuinty added that Canada has not yet decided to join its NATO allies in offering assistance to Persian Gulf nations that have come under attack by Iran. “Clearly the situation in Iran is extremely serious,” McGuinty told reporters. “It’s one we’ve been watching since the beginning.” It’s important for Canadians to know that Canada was not consulted before the action undertaken by Israel and the and the United States really does not need to do anything other than get their head out of others businesses United States. But the actions are very opposite.

Ukraine naval drones strike a Russian tanker In Mediterranean

A Picture Of The Tanker Sinking

A Russian liquefied natural gas (LNG) tanker has sunk in the Mediterranean between Libya and Malta after it was hit by explosions and a fire, Libyan port officials have said. Russia accused Ukraine of targeting the Arctic Metagaz with “uncrewed sea drones” launched from the Libyan coast. Ukraine’s SBU state security service has not commented on the allegation and the Libyan port authority said the cause of the fire was unclear.

Russia’s transport ministry said 30 Russians were aboard the Arctic Metagaz. Maltese Home Affairs Minister Byron Camilleri said they were all found “safe and sound in a lifeboat” during a rescue operation by Malta’s armed forces. Unverified night-time footage has emerged purportedly showing the ship ablaze after the attack, which occurred on Tuesday. He did not elaborate where the pictures came from and not been verified.

Putin shares proposals to end Iran war ‘quickly’ in call with Trump, signals diplomatic push

Russian President Vladimir Putin and his US counterpart, Donald Trump, held a telephonic conversation where they discussed the prevailing situation in the Middle East, the Kremlin said late Monday (local times). During the phone call, Putin put forward several proposals aimed at ending the ongoing war between Iran and the US-Israeli coalition “quickly,” it added. The Kremlin said the call was initiated by Washington. The conversation lasted for nearly an hour, Putin’s foreign affairs advisor Yuri Ushakov said, adding that the two leaders had a “specific and useful” exchange of views. He said the Russian president “voiced a few ideas aimed at a quick political and diplomatic settlement” of the ongoing armed conflict in the Middle East following his conversations with Gulf leaders and President. This is very dangerous to humanity.

This is very unlikely to happen. Trump offered his assessment of the developing situation, Ushakov said, “in the context of the ongoing US-Israeli operation.” Notably, Iran, which has suffered heavy losses in the ongoing war with the joint front of Israel and the US, is a key ally of Russia. Ushakov said that Putin and Trump also discussed the conflict in Ukraine. The two Presidents met during the Venezuela press conference.

This happening is very unlikely. The two Presidents meet a lot today Putin also gave “a description of the current situation on the line of contact where Russian troops are progressing with a lot of success,” he added, referring to the mention of the Ukraine conflict during the phone call, per AFP. This was the first talks Trump and Putin have held since December. The two leaders touched in Venezuela

Khamenei on finding courage to lead while honouring the family he lost to the war, calls for strength and national unity

Mojtaba Khamenei, the son of Ali Khamenei and the new Supreme Leader of the Islamic nation, has lost at least two family members to the strikes by Israel and the US, according to reports. Iranian media reports say his wife, Zahra Haddad-Adel, and one of his two sons were killed in the airstrikes that began over two weeks ago over Iran’s nuclear programme. He also has a daughter - three children in total. Mojtaba Khamenei’s father, Ali Khamenei, who remained Supreme Leader till the end, was the first family member to die in the war. There are also reports that Mojtaba Khamenei’s mother, Mansoureh Khojasteh Bagherzadeh, was killed in one of the deadly airstrikes and missiles and all the stuff is happening and the son but sadly none of.

His grandchildren who were killed could be from the family of any of his six children. His father’s death only hastened a succession that had been quietly in motion for years. But truly nothing can happen to Israel had threatened, ahead of the announcement, to strike whoever was chosen. It offered no follow-up. He explained why the cleric has not appeared before the supporters or shared a video address and said that Khamenei is not “comfortable [in any condition] to give a speech.” In an interview with Fox News, Trump said he is “not happy” with Iran’s choice of leader. Trump said.. According to the Guardian report, Western intelligence services believe that the new leader is keeping away from public eye for fear of an assassination attempt. But the same guy did not bat an eye when his people died in all his protests. Insensitive person. not worthy of anything in life.

Hyderabad Paediatrician’s gets legal notice over remarks on in ORSL product amid medical and corporate dispute

A growing confrontation between Hyderabad-based senior paediatrician and public health activist Dr Sivaranjani Santosh and major pharmaceutical companies has intensified, following legal notices served to her over allegations related to high sugar content in products marketed as Oral Rehydration Salts (ORS). The legal action stems from her decade-long campaign questioning the marketing of high-sugar beverages under the ORS label. However, the move appears to have triggered widespread backlash, with medical associations and healthcare professionals across India condemning the notices as an attempt to intimidate a doctor advocating for public health. Telangana implements a 60 day ban on Paraquat

The government has issued orders imposing a temporary 60-day ban on the sale, stock, distribution, manufacture and use of Paraquat and its formulations across the state. According to orders issued by the Agriculture and Cooperation department on Tuesday, the move comes after the state government on Monday adopted a resolution in the Assembly urging the Central government to impose a complete ban on the sale and use of Paraquat dichloride. Citing feedback and reports from various sources on the adverse effects of the chemical pesticide Paraquat and its derivatives/ formulations on human health and animals, and keeping public health and farmers’ safety in view, the state government invoked powers under Section 27 of the Insecticides Act, 1968, to issue

The temporary restriction has been imposed in view of growing concerns over the pesticide’s harmful impact. Poisoning can happen not just by consuming the herbicide, but also by inhaling or from absorption through the skin. exposure could also cause birth defects or learning and developmental disorders. IMD flags intense thunder storms across Telangana regions

Temperatures in parts of Telangana are likely to drop slightly, bringing some relief from the high temperatures as the India Meteorological Department (IMD) has issued a thunderstorm warning for multiple Telangana districts for Sunday and Monday (March 15 and 16, 2026). The change in weather is being attributed to rising temperatures and increased moisture in the atmosphere. “The gradual increase in temperatures is creating favourable conditions for localised weather developments. As temperatures rise, the atmosphere becomes unstable, which can trigger thermal activity in some areas,” said Dharma Raju, Scientist at the IMD Hyderabad Centre. He explained that the presence of moisture in the atmosphere will also contribute to the development of thunderstorms. South-rising temperatures and increased moisture in the atmosphere.

India turns to Iran for oil after a 7 year long hiatus amid rising energy demands

India has begun buying oil and gas from Tehran after a seven-year hiatus as it grapples with supply disruptions and elevated energy prices triggered by the U.S.-Israel war on Iran. The move to resume Iranian energy imports — the first purchases since 2019, according to energy intelligence firm Rystad Energy — is unlikely to draw immediate ire from Washington, but analysts say it underscores New Delhi’s attempt to rebalance ties with Tehran. On Saturday, India’s Ministry of Petroleum and Natural Gas said Indian refiners had secured crude supplies from more than 40 countries, including Iran, amid disruptions caused by the Middle East conflict. The ministry denied that refiners faced any payment hurdles for Iranian crude and said a vessel carrying 44,000 metric tons of Iranian liquefied petroleum gas (LPG) had berthed at

India on high alert for hail storms and heavy rain

Several parts of India are likely to witness thunderstorms, rain and even hail, with weather activity expected to intensify over the next few days. The impact will not be uniform. These weather systems are typically patchy, meaning some areas may see heavy rain and storms while nearby regions remain largely unaffected. However, conditions are favourable enough across multiple regions for authorities to issue alerts and advisories. The system behind all of this is a Western Disturbance, a moisture-carrying weather system from the Mediterranean Sea that triggers rain, thunder and hail across North India during winter and spring. A powerful one swept through on April 3 and 4, and its tail end is still unsettling conditions tonight, giving Delhi that strange August-in-April feeling: cool air, heavy cloud cover and the occasional rumble instead of the scorching

India’s using reptiles in border rivers to prevent infiltration

The field units of the Border Security Force (BSF) have been directed to explore the feasibility of using reptiles such as snakes and crocodiles in riverine stretches along the Bangladesh border to prevent infiltration, according to an internal BSF communication. The “use of reptiles is in line with Home Minister Amit Shah’s directions”, the signal dated March 26 sent from the BSF headquarters to all field units along the Bangladesh border, said. “The feasibility of deploying reptiles (such as snakes or crocodiles) in vulnerable riverine gaps is to be explored and examined from an operational perspective,” it said. Iran, US receive draft proposal for 45 day ceasefire, Hormuz Strait might reopen

Iran and the United States have received a draft proposal that calls for a 45-day ceasefire and the reopening of the Strait of Hormuz to try and find a way to end the war, two Mideast officials have told The Associated Press. The proposal comes from Egyptian, Pakistani and Turkish mediators working to halt the fighting, the two officials said. They hope the 45-day window would provide enough time for extensive talks between the countries to reach a permanent ceasefire. Iran and the US have not responded to the proposal, sent late Sunday night to both Iranian Foreign Minister Abbas Araghchi and this is a very bad situation and can escalate soon. This is going to escalate very soon.

Atleast 25 killed in airstrike southwest of Tehran, Iranian State media reports

Israel and the United States carried a wave of attacks on Monday (April 6, 2026) that killed more than 25 people in Iran. Tehran respond- ed with missile fire on Israel and its Gulf Arab neighbours as U.S. President Donald Trump’s deadline for Tehran to reopen the Strait of Hormuz loomed. Explosions rang out into the night in Tehran and low-flying jets could be heard for hours as the capital was pound- ed. Thick black smoke rose near the city’s Azadi Square after one airstrike hit the Sharif University of Technology. Later, Israel’s army said on Monday (April 6) it had completed a wave of strikes against “regime targets” in Tehran. “A short while ago the IDF completed a wave of strikes on Iranian regime targets in Tehran,” the Israeli military posted on Telegram. The Guard and other secu- rity forces have been using sec- ondary sites as rally points as their bases have come under repeated attack during the war. Countries over the years have sanctioned the university for its work with the military, particularly on Iran’s ballistic missile program, which is controlled by the country’s paramilitary Revolutionary Guard, which is very unlikely to happen.
