

INT. TANVI's HOSTEL ROOM – DAY

The room is dark, a girl, Tanvi is asleep on the bed, the desk is cluttered showing she was up late working. Suddenly, the alarm rings in the dark, and the little part of the desk lights up. A groans and grabs her alarm, sets it off and sleeps again, but the constant notification sound keeps pouring in. She gets frustrated, groans and throws her blanket off and checks the phone. She checks the time, her eyes widen and she gets off the bed.

Quick shots of her getting ready:

Grabbing the washbag?

Water splashing on face.

Patting down clothes.

Tying lace of shoes

Stuffing all stuff into bag

Closing the zipper of the bag

Grabbing the handle of the door and pushing it open.

Shot of her walking the hallway, and exiting the door from southwing entrance.

EXT. SOUTHWING ENTRANCE - DAY

Ishitha is sitting on one of the stone benches. She smiles and gets up as Tanvi rushes over, They're both walking

Ishitha

"Hey, good morning. Sleep okay?"

Tanvi

"Hmm, no. Had lots to complete by today"

They walk towards the back entrance of ecole. Tanvi is busy typing away at her phone. Ishitha glances at her and looks ahead again.

Ishitha

"Ooo look at that, the flowers look so pretty"

Tanvi

"Hmm, yeah",

Tanvi doesn't really look, just a little glance and back to her phone.

Ishitha (smiley and happy)

"Anyway, did you see the match last night? It was wild"

Tanvi

“Noo, I did not. I just told you I had lots to do”

While they are talking, two background characters are walking beside them in the opposite direction, talking about some event preparation or smthg. (BUMP!)

B's smile fades a little at that. She stays silent a little before sighing and saying. At this point they reached ecoles entrance back entrance (?)

B: A, can you put the phone aside for like five minutes? I feel like we barely talk anymore.

A looks up, her expression a little defensive.

A: “I wish I could, B. But like I just told you, I’ve got lots to do.

B: “so much that you can’t even have one conversation with me? Like what, you need unlimited time to pay attention to me or something?”

A just stares at B, and scoffs,

A: “Maybe...sight pause...if you managed to get into the same A-level and projects as me, you’d understand just how demanding my course is”

A says as she walks away, and B is frozen for a second and sadly walks away in the other direction.

During the day, during the lectures, A is hesitant and keeps fumbling with her phone and wondering what to text B (apologizes and stuff). She finally types “Meet you tonight?” “Near the rocks at 6;30?”. SHE puts the phone down and begins doodling on her notes. Ishitha reacts with simple thumbs up as a reply. A sighs and shuts her phone down.

It’s 6;30. The sunset is sunsetting. B is waiting for A. A approaches her and sits down next to her.

B: “Can’t stay today. See you tomorrow?” B says as she gets up.

A gives her a little nod and a smile. As B is walking away, A calls out to her.

A: “B! I’m sorry about what I said today. You know I didn’t mean anything I said right?”

B gives her a smile and says “Yeah”, and walks away. A stares at her and gets up and goes back inside. Later that night, she texts ishitha once in the mess. Eating food.

A is in her room, on her desk, with books around her studying. But her eyes keep darting to her phone. She texts B again. She scrolls and shows a bunch of unread messages. The last seen time is sometime like 7:00 PM and no response from B. A shuts her phone and it cuts to black.

–THE ending part scene should be identical to the 6:30 scene in Day 1

A wakes up again, in the same way as day 1, dark room, same mess, same alarm, same time and the same notification. She groans in the same way and gets up. This time we don't show the montage and just directly cut to A walking out the door to B.

B greets her the same way as day 1, A doesn't really pay any attention to it. But keeps refreshing her phone. She complains about some portal and how it's still not opening even though it's time for it to open. (or smthg like that)

A: "What the hell?"

B: "What's wrong?"

A: "I had to submit an assignment by Wednesday but the portals not open yet"

B: "Okay then why are you worrying? You still have a day's time"

A: "What are you talking about? I need to submit it by Wednesday. /Today/"

B: chuckles "No. Today's Tuesday"

A: "No, Tuesday was yesterday."

B: "No, today's Tuesday. The match was yesterday remember?"

A: "No you said the same exact thing yesterday!"

B: "Dude I swear you need to stop working so hard and get some sleep"

A checks the date on her phone and is lost for words and just walks alongside B, still on her phone. They reach the flowers and B talks about how pretty the flowers are. A is confused and looks at B for a second before going back to her phone. At that same time the two background characters from day 1 walk past talking about the same thing. Now A just stops in her track, surprised laughter coming out of her mouth. She mutters "What the hell" under her breath.

But when B calls her she continues walking, still bewildered and a little slow. When they're almost near the entrance, B says a little nervous

B: "Hey, do you think we could hang out sometime soon? Like today or soemthing?"

A: "Uhm, yeah I guess we could"

B: "Great, thanks. I know you have a lot of workload nowadays, but it just feels like these days we-"

A: "We barely talk anymore..." A completes the sentence and B smiles a little.

B: "So you've noticed it too?-"

But A just steps away, (notification) face a little shocked again, "I'm sorry I need to go now. See you later" and just leaves B in near the entrance. B looks at A before walking to her class.

She's in the class and flips thru the pages and notices there's no doodles or any of the notes she's written yesterday. She just stares at the book and then gets a text from B saying let's meet at the rocks at 6/30. Class gets over, it's the same as Day 1. When A gets there, B apologizes again and gets up to go home. A watches her leave. Cut to her in her room.

She opens her and B's chat and the active time is still the same as day1.

A: “ Okay, this is obviously some kind of dream. It’ll all be over tomorrow. Just go to sleep. Go to sleep” (She is messaging Ishita, looks up for a while and says)
“I hope they activate the portal tomorrow atleast” She mutters to herself and gets on bed. Cut to black.

2nd loop.

Alarm blares, wake up, take bag, exits building. B asks A if she’s seen the match, compliments the flowers, the girls bump into her, “it’s you guys again!”. All this time A is walking uneasily. In class she stares at her empty book again “Why does it keep disappearing, I swear I drew smthg yesterday...”

Transition to her sitting in her in the mess, staring at the food, lifting the rice from the plate. “ smthg wrong”, she says looking around.
Then she;s in the room.

A: “ I need to figure out what’s going on. I need to stop this before I lose it”

--

Cut to alarm blaring. She runs out the building, B is mid sentence wishing her a good morning when she drags B by the hand and walks the opposite way to ecole instead of their usual way.

B: Why are we going this way? The other way’s shorter!

A: “ We just have to!” She says pulling B

She stops in front of ecole with a little relieved smile on her face. They walk in

Cut to alarm blaring again. She is confused.

She tries multiple other ways, after every scene it cuts back to her in her room. (figure it out later)

Her last attempt is to stay awake the entire night. A looks at the clock, reading 7:30. Quick shots of A studying (shot to clock), reading (shot of clock) and doom scrolling (shot of clock). She does a slow blink, (almost asleep). The clock is about to turn 12Am, she stares at it in anticipation, just as it’s about to turn into 12, the alarm rings again and she wakes up and in frustration she just throws her phone away.

She sits up and just stares into nothingness. Confused and exhausted. She is shocked out of her trance when someone knocks on her door. She gets up and opens the door. Behind the door is B.

B: Dude! It’s 9:00! Why are you not up and ready yet?

A: idk, I’m not coming today. Go without me.

She goes back to lie down on her bed.

B: What's wrong? (sits in front of A's bed)

A: Nothing

B: you know you can tell me anything right?

A is speechless for a few seconds cuz she doesn't know what to say. She sighs and says

A: You won't believe me.

B shoots her a look that's like, oh yeah? Try me

A sighs and starts

A: Fine I'll just say it. I've been stuck in a time loop and I've been reliving this exact Tuesday everyday for the past few weeks. And no matter what I do I can't stop it. I don't even know why this is happening, I don't know why today, and I don't know why me. I'm lost, B.

A looks up from where she's looking and finds B's face a bit cold, or disbelieving

B: (She doesn't say anything, just stares at her)

A: (sighs) What do I have to do to get you to believe me?

B: This is ridiculous. I'll just go to class without you.

As B is about to leave the room

A: You were gonna ask me to hang out with you today weren't you?

B looks at her weirdly.

A: You told me that you feel like we're barely talking nowadays. And that you didn't want us to grow distant.

B still looks at her weirdly

A: Fine, if you still don't believe me. (Something about the professors doing this and this during the lectures or smthg)

B is still skeptical and agrees and walks out the door. "I'm going to class now. Just be on time for the next one"

Cut to evening of the same day. A approaches B, who's sitting a bit shocked on the rocks.

A: "Believe me now?"

B: "I mean.. I don't know what to say... You were really benign serious?"

A: Yeah!

They sit in silence

B: "You've really tried everything to break the loop?"

A: " Every. Damn. Thing. I even Googled how to break a time loop."

They laugh, and are silent again for a while

B: "But is this really that bad though?" A looks at her confused "What?"

B: " I mean, would it really be that bad to spend more time with me?"

A laughs a bit sadly at that, "You don't even remember what happens each loop, B. I'll have to waste a whole day just trying to convince you all over again. When will we actually get to hang out?"

B: "Hey, I really don't think time loop me would question or refuse to hang out with you yeah? I'd ditch everything in the world if it means I get to spend more time with you"

She says as she bumps shoulders with A. A smiles a little.

A: "I guess I'll jsut have to find out just how bad spending time with you would be huh?"

They laugh (rework this dialogue later)

Montage scenes of them hanging out. Some dialogues between the montage. Like montage – dialogues – montage – dialogues – montage and then last sunset scene

(come up with this later)

(Include flowers from Day1, doodling, running, them watching smthg together)

They're sitting on some place with a nice sunset or smthg. They're sitting next to each other. (Insert cheesy dialogue). Ishitha draws smthg on Tanvi's hand.

A: God, don;t try to ruin this moment!

B: (laughs), (silence for a while). You know, I don;t know why you're so wiling to spend time with me so out of nowhere, but I'm not complaining.

A: Ah, I don;t know. I guess I just found out spending time with you isn't that bad.

B: Great, cuz I was starting to miss you a bit there yk.

A: I know, and I;m sorry. I'll try to be a better friend to you from now on.

They lay their heads on each other and hold hands or smthg like that

B: Hmm. If you really want things to be normal again. Maybe try figuring out why you're stuck in this loop, and then you could figure out how to stop it.

A: Eyy, nevermind that. You're right, I'm gonna enjoy this.

B: When am I ever wrong.

The same sunset goodbye as day1. They're infront of the building. B says that she needs to go home early today. A waves goodbye to her and watches her leave and goes back into the building.

It's night, and it still shows inactive from 7:00PM. She ignores it and goes to sleep, smiling.

She wakes up the next day, but there's no alarm this time. She look at the her hand, smiles at the drawing, she look at the date and is shocked to find the date has changed. She opens hers and B's chat and finds that she still hasn't responded and that it's still inactive from 7:00PM. She tries calling B, but no response.

She goes to class, on the way, the bumpers are like I'm so sorry, etc. She goes to class, as she walks to her seat, ppl also say I'm so sorry. She gets to the seat, opens her doodle book and tries calling Ishitha again. While the call is still going thru, a classmate approaches her."

C: "I'm so sorry for your loss. Ishitha was a really nice person. It's really tragic that this happened. We're all really sad.

Tanvi is shocked and the phone is still in her hand ringing.

BLACK

"The person you're calling is not available"

(Don't know how to transition properly)

Transition to her standing at the places they used to hang out. She could walk past the flowers and notice them. She stares at the place B previously doodled, (layer the doodles version on top of this empty place). She's going thru all their memories in her mind. (like she's sitting and staring at the space in front of her, and add a clip of them walking together laughing with laughter echoing). And similar other stuff like this.

She's sitting near southwing entrance and smiling while tears stream down her face.

Close up of her watch ticking away and cut to black.

The end.
